

Mohammed Siraj Contract: Complete Breakdown of His Salary, Earnings & More

Mohammed Siraj has quickly become one of India's top fast bowlers, known for his fiery spells and consistency in both red-ball and white-ball formats. His rise from humble beginnings in Hyderabad to becoming a mainstay in the Indian cricket team is nothing short of inspirational. Alongside his success on the field, Siraj has also built a solid financial portfolio through his central contracts, IPL deals, and endorsements.

BCCI Central Contract & Match Fees

As of 2025, Siraj holds a Grade A contract with the Board of Control for Cricket in India (BCCI), which earns him an annual retainer of ₹5 crore. In addition to the retainer, he receives match fees for every international appearance – ₹15 lakh for a Test match, ₹6 lakh for an ODI, and ₹3 lakh for a T20 International. These amounts can increase with performance bonuses and consistent selection.

Know More:- Australia W vs Bangladesh W

IPL Contracts and Earnings

Siraj's IPL journey began in 2017 with Sunrisers Hyderabad. However, it was with Royal Challengers Bangalore (RCB) that he truly made a name for himself. For several seasons, he was retained by RCB for ₹7 crore per season. In a major turn of events during the IPL 2025 auction, Siraj was bought by Gujarat Titans for a whopping ₹12.25 crore, significantly boosting his annual income.

Over the years, Siraj's total IPL earnings have crossed the ₹40 crore mark, making him one of the highest-paid Indian pacers in the tournament's history.

Endorsements and Other Income

Siraj has also capitalized on his popularity with multiple brand endorsements in the fitness, sports, and lifestyle segments. Additionally, he was awarded an honorary DSP (Deputy Superintendent of Police) rank by the Telangana government, which comes with a government salary and perks.

Net Worth Estimate

Combining his BCCI salary, IPL earnings, match fees, and endorsements, Mohammed Siraj's estimated annual income ranges between ₹17 to ₹20 crore. His net worth is currently estimated at around ₹55 to ₹60 crore, and it continues to grow as he cements his place in Indian cricket.

Related Article: Mohammed Siraj Contract