When it comes to modern boxing greatness, Terence “Bud” Crawford stands among the best of his generation. With a flawless record, incredible adaptability, and knockout power in both hands, Crawford has dominated multiple weight divisions – from lightweight to welterweight. His rise to the top has been defined by spectacular performances against world-class opponents. Let's take a detailed look at the top 5 fights of Terence Crawford's legendary career.

1. Terence Crawford vs Errol Spence Jr (2023)

This was arguably Crawford's career-defining performance. Facing the unbeaten Errol Spence Jr for the undisputed welterweight title, Crawford delivered a masterclass. He completely dismantled Spence with precision, timing, and power, winning by TKO in the 9th round. The victory made Crawford the first male boxer to become undisputed champion in two different weight divisions, cementing his legacy in boxing history.

2. Terence Crawford vs Julius Indongo (2017)

Crawford's fight with Indongo was historic. Already the unified WBC and WBO light-welterweight champion, Crawford knocked out Indongo in the 3rd round to become the undisputed super lightweight champion. This bout established him as one of the sport's elite and showcased his incredible ring IQ and power.

3. Terence Crawford vs Viktor Postol (2016)

Before Indongo, Crawford faced a tough challenge in Viktor Postol, an undefeated WBC champion known for his reach and counterpunching. Crawford dominated from start to finish, using speed, angles, and movement to neutralize Postol. The unanimous decision win proved that Crawford could outthink and outbox elite-level competition.

4. Terence Crawford vs Jeff Horn (2018)

Crawford's welterweight debut was against Jeff Horn, who had shocked the boxing world by defeating Manny Pacquiao. Many doubted Crawford's power at 147 lbs – until he dismantled Horn with surgical precision. The 9th-round TKO crowned Crawford the WBO welterweight champion, marking the beginning of his dominance in a new division.

5. Terence Crawford vs Shawn Porter (2021)

Crawford's fight with Shawn Porter was a true test of grit. Porter, known for his relentless aggression, pushed Crawford early, but "Bud" adapted mid-fight and scored two knockdowns before Porter's corner stopped the bout in the 10th round. This win further reinforced Crawford's status as one of the most complete fighters of the era.

Final Thoughts

From tactical brilliance to devastating knockouts, Terence Crawford's career is filled with moments that define boxing excellence. Each of these fights showcases why he's considered a pound-for-pound great – a fighter with unmatched skill, adaptability, and an unbroken will to win.
