

ICC Women's World Cup 2025: AUS-W vs ENG-W Match Prediction, Toss Result, Most Runs, Most Wickets & Player of the Match – “Thriller Ahead” Trends on Twitter

The cricketing rivalry between Australia Women and England Women took center stage once again as the two giants of the women's game clashed in a high-stakes encounter at the ICC Women's World Cup 2025. Anticipation was sky-high, and moments after the toss, “Thriller Ahead” began trending on Twitter as fans from both nations shared their excitement and predictions.

At the toss, Australia Women captain Alyssa Healy called correctly and opted to bat first, trusting her batters to make the most of a dry, flat surface that promised plenty of runs.

On the other side, Heather Knight's England looked confident, banking on their in-form bowlers to strike early and restrict the Aussies.

Match Prediction

The contest promised to be evenly balanced, but Australia's recent form and their deep batting order gave them a slight edge. With stars like Ellyse Perry, Beth Mooney, and Tahlia McGrath in superb touch, Australia were favorites heading into the game. However, England's fighting spirit and the brilliance of Nat Sciver-Brunt ensured it wouldn't be an easy outing for the reigning champions.

Toss Result

Australia Women won the toss and chose to bat first – a decision welcomed by fans on social media, who expected a high-scoring thriller.

Most Runs

Beth Mooney stood out with a sublime knock, anchoring the innings with patience and precision. Her calculated aggression against the English pacers kept the scoreboard ticking and set the tone for Australia's innings.

Most Wickets

For England, Sophie Ecclestone once again proved her class, picking up crucial wickets in the middle overs and keeping her side in the contest.

Player of the Match

The honor went to Ellyse Perry, whose all-round brilliance – a quickfire fifty followed by key breakthroughs with the ball – turned the game decisively in Australia's favor.

As the match ended, Twitter erupted with praise for both teams' performances. The hashtag #AUSWvsENGW trended worldwide, celebrating yet another thrilling chapter in women's cricket history.
