

IPL Auction 2026: List Of Players Who Have Set Base Price Of INR 2 Crore For Upcoming IPL Mini Auction

The excitement for the IPL Auction 2026 is reaching new heights as several top international and domestic stars have entered the auction pool with the maximum base price of INR 2 crore. This elite bracket is typically reserved for highly experienced, in-demand, and match-winning cricketers who can change the course of a season single-handedly. As the IPL 2026 mini auction approaches, franchises are keenly analysing which premium players can strengthen their squads and deliver immediate impact.

The 2 Crore Base Price: A Premium Category

Players listing themselves at a base price of INR 2 crore signal confidence in their value and demand among teams. Historically, this category includes seasoned internationals, former IPL stars, and T20 specialists with proven track records. Teams usually target these players for leadership roles, finishing power, all-round abilities, and experience in high-pressure situations.

Star Players in the INR 2 Crore Bracket

While the official list includes several big names, here are the key players who have reportedly entered the auction with the highest base price:

1. Experienced Overseas Batters

Many established top-order and middle-order batters have entered the INR 2 crore bracket. These players bring firepower, stability, and the ability to dominate both pace and spin—qualities IPL teams value highly during tight run-chases and competitive totals.

2. T20 Specialist All-Rounders

All-rounders are often the most sought-after assets in the IPL. The 2026 auction pool includes multiple overseas all-rounders who excel in both hitting and wicket-taking. Their presence in the 2 crore category comes as no surprise, given their ability to influence all three departments of the game.
