Types of Toilet Taps Available in Singapore

Singapore's bathroom fittings market offers a broad range of toilet taps to cater to different functional and design needs. Below are some of the most common types:

1. Pillar Taps

These are traditional taps with separate hot and cold water controls. Though more commonly seen in older homes, they can add a vintage charm when used in the right setting.

2. Mixer Taps

Mixer taps combine hot and cold water through a single spout, offering better control over water temperature. This makes them ideal for homes looking for convenience and functionality.

3. Sensor Taps

Sensor-operated toilet taps are becoming increasingly popular in Singapore, especially in public and commercial bathrooms. These taps enhance hygiene as they are touch-free and automatically stop the water flow after a few seconds, thereby saving water.

4. Wall-Mounted Taps

These are installed directly into the wall and are perfect for minimalist bathrooms. Wall-mounted taps free up counter space and are easy to clean.
