About Your Local Owner

Seth Ramey

Owner

I've worked in a variety of roles big and small, and always had the desire to open my own business to put all the things I've learned to work in a bigger capacity for me and my family. For the last decade I've been very involved in the community through the various corporate roles I've held. The fact that Bio-One is very much "Help First, Business Second" excited me from the early talks I had about joining the team, and I'm excited and honored to be involved in the community to help make a difference!
