

Mitchell Starc Likely to Miss Three More Delhi Capitals Games in IPL 2026

The IPL 2026 season has taken an unexpected turn for Delhi Capitals as star pacer Mitchell Starc is reportedly set to miss three more matches. This development comes as a major setback for the franchise, which relies heavily on Starc's experience and wicket-taking ability.

Mitchell Starc Injury Update

According to recent reports, Mitchell Starc is still recovering from a minor injury concern, which has forced the team management to prioritize his fitness over immediate participation. While the exact nature of the injury has not been fully disclosed, sources suggest it is not serious but requires adequate rest.

Delhi Capitals are taking a cautious approach, ensuring that Starc returns fully fit rather than risking further complications. This decision reflects the importance of long-term availability in a demanding tournament like the IPL.

Impact on Delhi Capitals' Bowling Attack

Starc's absence leaves a significant gap in the Delhi Capitals' bowling lineup. Known for his lethal pace, swing, and ability to deliver in the powerplay and death overs, Starc is a match-winner on his day.

Without him, DC's bowling attack may lack the same level of intimidation and control. The responsibility now shifts to other bowlers in the squad to step up and deliver under pressure.

Who Can Replace Mitchell Starc?

Delhi Capitals have a few options to fill the void left by Starc. The team could bring in another overseas pacer or rely on Indian bowlers to maintain balance in the playing XI.

Young and emerging players might get an opportunity to prove themselves, which could be a blessing in disguise for DC. However, replacing a bowler of Starc's caliber is never easy.

Delhi Capitals' Strategy Without Starc

In Starc's absence, Delhi Capitals may need to tweak their strategy. The team could focus more on spin options during the middle overs and rely on disciplined bowling rather than outright pace.

Additionally, the batting unit might need to take extra responsibility to compensate for the potential lack of breakthroughs with the ball. Team balance will be crucial in the upcoming matches.

IPL 2026 Playoff Implications

Missing three matches in a tightly contested IPL season can have a significant impact on a team's campaign. Delhi Capitals will need to ensure they remain competitive and secure crucial points even without their star pacer.

If they manage to stay in contention, Starc's return later in the tournament could provide a major boost heading into the business end of the season.

Conclusion

Mitchell Starc's likely absence from the next three Delhi Capitals matches in IPL 2026 is a big blow for the team. His experience, pace, and match-winning ability are difficult to replace.
