Administration, and she graduated from the University of Nevada, Reno with a degree in Health Education. His business expertise, her community-based knowledge, and their hoarding-property cleanups, give them passion, experience and expertise to help in restoring their clients' properties to their original condition in a professional and compassionate manner. They have a true passion for helping others and serving those in Northern Nevada. They have three children and are active members in their community. To them, they feel like life throws a number of challenges at people every day, and they're here to help with some of the most difficult ones, in the greatest time of need. BIO-ONE IS THE MOST TRUSTED AND REFERRED CRIME & TRAUMA SCENE CLEANUP COMPANY IN THE TRUCKEE MEADOWS. We're local, and we're dedicated to the community by remediating all types of biohazards, including homicide, suicide, natural death, blood spills, infectious diseases, as well as hoarded/distressed properties.

involved in the community through the various corporate roles I've held. The fact that Bio-One is very much "Help First, Business Second" excited me from the early talks I had about joining the team, and I'm excited and honored to be involved in the community to help make a difference!
